
The slopes are a unique landmark to St. Kilda and to reinforce the characteristic of them, the structure stretches the width of the site, elongating and raising the slopes to maximize the lounge space.