THE BEGINING

In the Bible, Noah built an ark to enable land-based creatures to escape the advent of the Great Flood, enabling the reactivation of terrestrial ecology after the Great Flood. In the science fiction "The three body problem" of Chinese science fiction writer Liu Cixin, when aliens invaded the Earth, Australia became the last ark for human beings to survive. Australia, surrounded by the sea, has protected its terrestrial flora and fauna before it was discovered by humans. Australia has become the home of these unique Australian animals. It is an ark.
