

The electricity generation being the primary purpose of the turbine is accompanied with some other secondary features. The turbine will be fitted with satellite communication device to get updates on weather forecast and using it for making the decision of shifting from wind to solar or vice versa which ever seem to be the most optimum solution according to the forecast. This weather forecast can also help nearby people in their plans

