

UNWIND

An installation that embodies the playfulness and excitement of St. Kilda, while simultaneously generating energy for the residents and occupants of the city. Wind energy is converted into electricity through the use of unspooling kites.

The intention of the design is to evoke the emotion of playfulness and contemplation. The site is to be a beautiful landmark to be seen from near and far. The installation is designed to engage the occupants and viewer both night and day.

