

Thin Film Holographic PV

Piezoelectric Solar PV

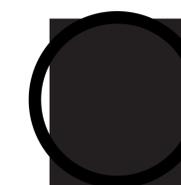

The structure is wrapped in piezoelectric solar panels and dye-sensitized holographic solar film. The film starts midway on the hand and extends to the fingertips allowing sunlight to pass through onto pedestrians below, enveloping them in an a rainbow of hues. The mixture of solar film materials is evocative of patchwork artistry, creating a playful and unique atmosphere for visitors while maintaining views of St Kilda Beach and the Port Phillip Bay horizon.

4,500,000 kWh
of electricity
produced per year

8 million
miles driven by car

86,000
trees grown
for ten years