

St.Kilda Looking Glass

Space is experienced through the conceptual lens of the individual who have their unique analytique and apprehension of what surrounds them. When there are small levels of immersive stimuli, the imaginative mind of the sentient body departs from its direct landscape and progress elsewhere. Thinking. Creating.

1:3000

