

St.Kilda

Solar tower

this is a solar urban structure which can offer many usage for the city. Vast interior space could be home to many public places and facilities.

the design of solar tower is inspired by the concept of flying eagle and its domination which is the protective mythologic creature of the St. Kilda area. The overall form is some ascending leaves that implies lightness and speed. the tower is designed as a unique shape and graphic able borders in order to be use as a land mark in the city and even as the emblem of Melbourne.

On this presentation it has been tried to find the best possible size and position for tower. But, it could be scale down to fit the primary boundary.
