the place

Openwinds It is located in the corner of St Kilda Triangle that looks at the city, emerging as two large arms that seeks to be the gateway to the community, raises the Jacka boulevard and the slopes, following the guidelines of the Masterplan, recognizing the slopes, including the way they define the topography of The Esplanade and form a landscaped edge on Jacka Boulevard, intensifying relationships with the beach.

Its orientation was carefully chosen to serve as a gateway to the set of heritage buildings and parks proposed by the Masterplan, taking into consideration the fact that most visitors would cross it to enter the complex.
