

DANCING LEAVES

A symbol of life in the desert, palm trees embody not only the natural generation of energy from sustainable sources, but also provide shade for humans to escape the blazing desert sun. Palm leaves are the source of inspiration for this solar and wind energy harvesting scheme. During daytime it provides shade and invites people to engage in educational interactions while at night it retracts its leaves to form a light-tunnel.

