

"In a world where society is stationary, progress is in constant movement, as nomad tribes in the past were on a constant move looking at the future for a better opportunity"

