ARCHITECTURAL SPACE

The Crack is a new kind of architectural space where people will be able to experience a constantly changing public space. So, the ability to modify the use of this space allows us to live different kinds of moments and activities every day and every hour, even at night. We have designed a shaded space to increase comfort for visitors and reduce heat absorption at the place. Also, we have reduced the evaporation of the water because of the shadows. When the upper reservoir (the Crack) is empty, visitors will be able to walk through the space and enjoy different sport or artistic activities will take place there. On the other hand, when upper reservoir is full, people will be able to view the landscape and even practice aquatic sports inside the crack.
