HYPERCUBE

The project aimed to create symbolic profile to the city of Masdar while employing pragmatic proven technologies. Multiple large cubes finished with PV solar films will generate sufficient energy to illuminate the site and city's streets at night. The opening between panels will create a positive-negative wireframe optical effect during day and night cycle.

