

The Luminescent properties of the material allow glowing under the surface, producing an exciting phenomenon of indirect lighting under the surface, creating a reflective space that supports activities during the day and the night by Led light, using just a 1% of the total energy produced each day.

REFLECTIVE LUMINECENT VIEW