Filtration

The trees drink water through the leaves and let it off in the air as oxygen and water vapor. And of course it will absorb the water and take it to the roots. Filter it and take out the harmful substance from the groundwater also.

The tree branch is also considered as water filters. It takes it absorb the bacteria and producing fresh, uncontaminated water.

The Soil will absorb the water. The type of soil in UAE it's salt water, so it will absorb the water faster than the others. It will purify the water naturally by taking the nutrients and contaminants from the water.
