

In addition, considering the convenience of using local connecting ships, a ship dock will be added outside the design area to address the docking function of large ships In addition, the dock has also added seawater desalination equipment to produce fresh water using abundant seawater resources.

