

POSSIBLE HIVE FORMATION

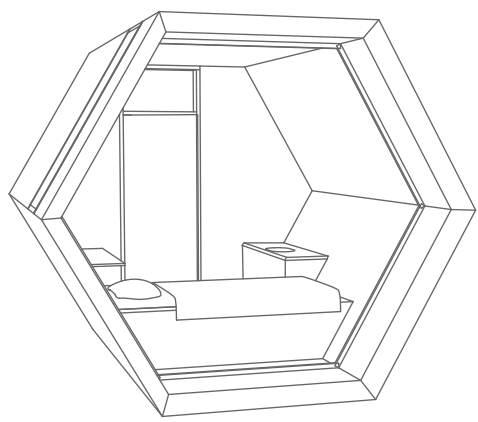

FLYHIVE is composed of a combination of four different unit types to accommodate various needs of Fly Ranch visitors. Unit types range from a single pod for one individual to three connected pods for a small group to live intimately while staying at the FLYHIVE community. The interiors of the pods are purposefully minimalist, furnished with the essential needs to allow residents to work and rest comfortably throughout the year. The intention is that the very modest furnishing encourages people to leave the space and spend time in the communal areas. At its core, FLYHIVE centers around fostering community.
