

The mountain lets people connect to themselves, nature and to others. It becomes a space for communal gathering and encourages a unified idea towards the society.

It provides a playscape for all by accomodating the slides and the rock-climbing activity on the inclined modules.

