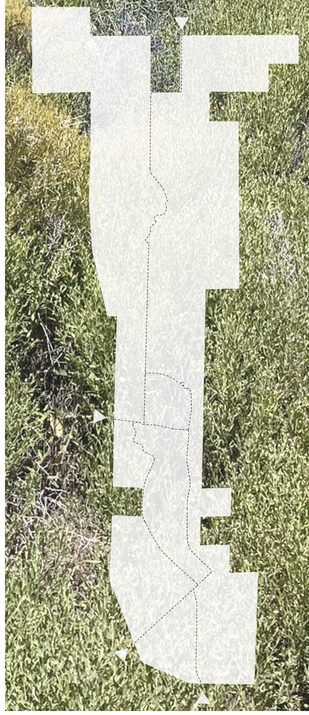
„Well, it seems to me, that all real communities grow out of a shared confrontation with survival.
Communities are not produced by sentiment or mere good will. They grow out of a shared struggle.
Our situation in the desert is an incubator for community."
- Larry Harvey



"Hopefully we will – as we have done over the years – teach other people how to take a spot of land and invigorate it, but at the same time be sensitive to the land aswell."
- Crimson Rose

"Something could happen, that could be so harmonious with nature and yet provide our culture with the energy that it needs, that it could change the world."
- Will Roger

"It's exciting to have the opportunity to have things that last for longer than a week, but we really have to think about the inputs and the outputs of those. That's really important."
- Zac Cirivello
