The Hatchery enables the Fly Ranch vision, from design to build.

By creatively addressing LAGI’s call for Regeneration and Shelter, The Hatchery can support various other systems throughout Fly Ranch. This project is a piece of regenerative infrastructure because it is a piece of hardware that can be used to build other projects that address areas of the LAGI competition, empowering others to realize their own creations.

As a piece of social infrastructure, the project is also a hub for makers, artists, and creators to come together, learn and develop ideas, and form a community of making and gathering. In the spirit of Burning Man, this project allows for maximum creative freedom from the individual to the collective scale.
