

Leave the world better than you found it.

The Perfect Outhouse, a melding of sculpture, biodegradable construction and environmental consciousness.

Invasive plants can be cleared from the land and ground into pulp.

Pulp, combined with beneficial native seed is built up by hand around reuseable molds to a minimum thickness of 2".

