

Module

Each module holds all the pieces and processes to create biofuel surrounded by a structural skeleton.

Biofuel Core

The core structure holds all the necessary equipment to grow algae and harvest it into a biomass that can be converted into biofuel and other natural resources

