

In this project, we use the confluence of light, mirror and water, and this connection is repeated in the environment like circular gates that are connected to another dimension.

The form of circles shows time and movement without beginning and end, because the circle has no beginning and end.

The circle is a symbol of unity, integrity, and a life without boundaries and limitations;

Therefore, it evokes eternity and life after death.

This collection includes circular rings that have a mirror effect during the day and are seen as luminous at night.

We can divert water from the Neckar River to Spinelli Park and have an on-site pool, so the rings are installed both in-ground and in-water with the foundation.
