

SKY WINGS

One of the most common types of kites, a rhomboid (diamond) kite, is taken as the basis for the form of the art installation. The form of the installation also resembles a flock of flying birds. The form of the installation is distinguished by lightness, liveliness and expressiveness.

Watching snakes or birds soaring in the sky brings peace, tranquillity and freedom, these are exactly the emotions that people will experience when looking at the Sky Wings project.

The concept of the "Sky wings" art installation is based on three main principles: 1) architectural objects that dissolve in the landscape, 2) respect for nature and the formation of thought, 3) creation of an "own" place for local residents. The improvement of the park, created for the elderly, children, families, youth, will help them do sports, play education games, provide a large number of different places for recreation and meetings. The territory of the park is a universal platform that includes restaurants, coffee shops, areas for mass events, areas for walking and relaxing with the family, as well as spending time alone.
