

At its civic scale GIRASOLI is a phototropic pavilion with an inclined cover above a flexible venue. GIRASOLI has a rotational and telescopic support structure that allows to orient the circular flat surface composed of photovoltaic panels towards the sunlight.

